

Female Health Package

Our female clients need to know that a package exists specifically tailored to their needs. We focus on feminine physiology, preventive care, and early detection. Please refer to the package below, and discuss this package with a coordinator. As always, our Medical Director is readily available for a telephone consultation prior to your arrival.

❖ Papanicolaou Smear

❖ Bone Densitometry evaluation Make no bones about it! As we mature, our bones begin to feel the impact of everyday life. Our goal is to screen, detect, and prevent before treatment becomes necessary. This evaluation will provide vital information about the strength and stability of your bones. If you are close to 50, around the age of menopause, or have specific risk factors or concerns, then this test will provide answers to put your mind at ease.

❖ Mammogram: Breast health is a major concern to many women. Through routine screening, detection of potentially troublesome lesions can be made expediently. This should be addressed in women over 40, women with specific risk factors, women with new or evolving lesions, or simply any woman who wants further information.

❖ Pelvic ultrasound – (transabdominal and transvaginal) in conjunction with the Pap smear; this will allow us to evaluate ovarian, uterine, and general pelvic health. (as indicated)

❖ MRI of the breast: Many of us chose surgical augmentation for aesthetic reasons, reconstructive reasons, or whatever the case may be. In these cases, and in women with questionable lesions not well defined through other modalities, an MRI may be indicated. Please discuss this need with one of our coordinators. (as indicated) Tests marked as indicated are not included in the price of the package.

Please note our cardiac package does not include the comprehensive package
