AMERICAN AIRLINES AND CAPE AIR ANNOUNCE EXPANDED CODESHARE RELATIONSHIP

Enhanced Relationship Allows for Increased Access to the Caribbean with Nonstop Service from San Juan

MIAMI – American Airlines has expanded its codeshare agreement with Hyannis, Mass.–based Cape Air, one of the largest independent regional airlines in the United States. The codeshare agreement now includes Cape Air's flights between San Juan, Puerto Rico (SJU) and the following destinations: Vieques and Mayaguez, Puerto Rico; Nevis; Anguilla; and Tortola, British Virgin Islands.

"Our enhanced codeshare relationship with Cape Air will provide our customers with more travel options in the Caribbean and increased access to the region," said Art Torno, American's Vice President – Mexico, Caribbean and Latin America. "This is another example of how American is focused on building its global network through closer coordination with its partners around the world, making travel easier and more convenient for our customers."

Members of the American Airlines AAdvantage® program will be able to earn and redeem miles on the codeshare flights operated by Cape Air, providing another valuable benefit of the relationship. Customers can begin booking travel on codeshare flights as early as Feb. 4, 2013 for travel beginning Feb. 7, 2013 to Vieques, Mayaguez, Nevis, and Anguilla – and for travel beginning on April 1, 2013 for Tortola.

Cape Air has been providing inter-island service to the Caribbean for 14 years, and its San Juan hub at Luis Munoz Marin International Airport provides customers with easy access to some of the Caribbean's premier destinations.

American Airlines and Cape Air have been partners since 2010, codesharing on flights between St. Louis and various markets in the Midwestern United States.
